

GRADUATE COLLEGE

Graduate Center

Dear Graduate Students,

As Tucson begins to experience its version of autumn, the late fall fellowship deadlines are almost upon us. In addition to November deadlines, you will begin to see some early 2024 deadlines in this newsletter, and some even for the early spring. We hope you will find one (or more) that applies to your field of study and that can expand your knowledge and career trajectory, as well as provide fellowship funding.

Graduate Writing Lab

The Graduate Writing Lab (GWL) offers free consultations by appointment with trained and certified peer tutors. Our graduate tutors will discuss any kind of writing at any point in the process. During each session, tutors get acquainted with the student's writing, answer questions, identify patterns, make recommendations, and help the student develop a plan for moving forward. Tutors can serve as a second set of eyes on personal statements, application essays, lab reports, theses, dissertations, resumes, and even professional emails.

Fulbright-Hays Doctoral Dissertation Research Abroad Award Information Session

The Fulbright-Hays DDRA Fellowship program provides opportunities for doctoral candidates to engage in full-time dissertation research abroad in modern foreign languages and area studies for periods of 6 to 12 months. The program is designed to contribute to the development and improvement of the study of modern foreign languages and area studies in the United States. To receive an award, a student must be a U.S. citizen, permanent resident, or national of the United States. Research will take place in specified locations.

Please read our description of the award prior to attending the session.

- Tuesday, December 6, 2023 from 12:00 – 1:00 pm. Please register to receive the Zoom link.

Survival Skills and Ethics (HSD 649, Spring 2024)

This course is designed for graduate students and postdoctoral fellows. It provides information and experiences that will aid in successful "survival" during the graduate-student years and those following graduation. Topics include effective speaking and writing, grants-personship, mentoring, teaching, career options, among others. Discussion of ethical issues and resources is integrated across topics. Earn a Responsible Conduct in Research (RCR) certificate upon course completion. This course also fulfills 3 units of elective credit toward the earning of the following two University of Arizona certificates: Certificate in College Teaching and Certificate in Science Communication.

- Time: Spring 2024, Mondays, 2:00-5:00pm
- Place: Health Sciences Innov, Rm 625
- For more information: Email Dr. Jenny Hoit at hoit@arizona.edu

General Fellowship Opportunities

The following descriptions are copied from each fellowship's website.

AAAS Mass Media Science & Engineering Summer Internship Program

This highly competitive program strengthens the connections between scientists and journalists by placing advanced undergraduate, graduate, and post-graduate level scientists, engineers, and mathematicians at media organizations nationwide. Fellows have worked as reporters, editors, researchers, and production assistants at such media outlets as the Los Angeles Times, National Public Radio, The Washington Post, WIRED, and Scientific American. The Mass Media Fellows use their academic training in the sciences as they research, write and report today's headlines, sharpening their abilities to communicate complex scientific issues to non-specialists. For 10 weeks during the summer, the AAAS Mass Media Science & Engineering Fellows collaborate with media professionals at radio and television stations, newspapers, and magazines. Applicants must be in the life, physical, health, engineering, computer, or social sciences or mathematics and related fields.

- Deadline: January 1, 2024
- Citizenship: Applicants must be U.S. citizens or already hold visas that allow them to receive payment for work.
- Website: <https://www.aaas.org/fellowships/mass-media/apply>

American Association of University Women (AAUW) American Dissertation Fellowships

American Fellowships support women scholars completing doctoral dissertations, conducting postdoctoral research, or finishing research for publication. The purpose of the Dissertation Fellowship is to offset a scholar's living expenses while she completes her dissertation. The fellowship must be used for the final year of writing the dissertation.

- Deadline: November 15, 2023
- Citizenship: U.S. citizen or permanent resident
- Website: <https://www.aauw.org/resources/programs/fellowships-grants/current-opportunities/american/dissertation-fellowships/>

American Association of University Women (AAUW) Career Development Grants

AAUW's Career Development Grants provide assistance to women who, through additional higher education, technical training, or participation in professional development institutes, are making career changes, seeking to advance in current careers, or reentering the workforce. Primary consideration is given to women of color and women pursuing credentials in nontraditional fields. Grants provide support for coursework toward degree programs other than a doctorate or for specialized training in technical or professional fields.

- Deadline: November 15, 2023
- Citizenship: U.S. citizen or permanent resident
- Website: <https://www.aauw.org/resources/programs/fellowships-grants/current-opportunities/career-development/>

American Association of University Women (AAUW) International Fellowships

International Fellowships are awarded for full-time study or research in the United States to women who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Both graduate and postgraduate studies at accredited U.S. institutions are supported.

- Deadline: November 15, 2023
- Citizenship: not U.S.A.

- Website: <https://www.aauw.org/resources/programs/fellowships-grants/current-opportunities/international/>

American Institute of Indian Studies

For more than 60 years, the American Institute of Indian Studies has provided funding to pre- and post-doctoral scholars and artists in pursuit of knowledge about India. Junior Fellowships are for graduate students conducting research for their doctoral dissertations in India. Senior Long- and Short-term Fellowships are for those holding the PhD degree. Performing and Creative Arts Fellowships are available to accomplished practitioners of the arts to conduct their projects in India. The AIIS fellowship competition is not restricted to those from its member institutions. Non-U.S. citizens may apply as long as they are either graduate students or full-time faculty at colleges and universities in the United States. Approximately 35 fellowships are awarded each year.

- Deadline: November 15, 2023
- Citizenship: Unrestricted
- Website: <http://www.indiastudies.org/research-fellowship-programs/>

Boren Graduate Fellowship

Boren Fellowships, an initiative of the National Security Education Program, provide unique funding opportunities for U.S. graduate students to study less commonly taught languages in world regions critical to U.S. interests, and underrepresented in study abroad, including Africa, Asia, Central and Eastern Europe, Eurasia, Latin America, and the Middle East. The countries of Western Europe, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand are excluded. Boren Fellows represent a vital pool of highly motivated individuals who wish to work in the federal national security arena. In exchange for funding, Boren Fellows commit to working in the federal government for at least one year after graduation.

- Deadline: January 24, 2024
- Citizenship: U.S. citizen
- Website: <https://www.borenawards.org/eligible-programs#basic>

Center for Reintegration Scholarships

Reintegration is an achievable goal and dreams are possible for those who have been touched by mental illness. The Center for Reintegration together with the Sidney R. Baer Jr. Foundation will continue to offer the Baer Reintegration Scholarship for those active in their recovery. These scholarships are for persons with schizophrenia, schizoaffective disorder, or bipolar disorder. Applicants must be actively involved in rehabilitative or reintegrative efforts, such as clubhouse membership, part-time work, volunteer efforts or school enrollment or in competitive employment.

- Deadline: January 31, 2024 (official deadline)

Explorers Club Grants

The Explorers Club is proud of its history but also looks toward the future by recognizing the importance of new ideas and avenues of exploration. The Club is deeply committed to supporting the fieldwork of serious researchers and, as part of its public service commitment, offers exploration grants. This category of grant supports exploration and field research for those who are just beginning their research careers.

- Deadline: Depends on grant; please see website for specifics
- Citizenship: Unspecified
- Website: <https://www.explorers.org/grants/>

Ford Foundation Dissertation and Postdoctoral Fellowships

The Ford Foundation Fellowships are designed to increase the diversity of the nation's college and university faculties by increasing their ethnic and racial diversity, maximize the educational benefits of diversity, and increase the number of professors who can and will use diversity as a resource for enriching the education of all students. Ford achieves these goals through a series of fellowships that span multiple stages of an academic career as well as mentorship, professional development, and an expansive network of alumni who enable peer support and community building. Ford Foundation Dissertation Fellowships provide one year of support for individuals working to complete a research-based, dissertation-required Ph.D. or Doctor of Science (Sc.D.) degree that will prepare them for the pursuit of a career in academic teaching or research. Practice-oriented degree programs are not eligible for support. The fellowship is intended to support the final year of writing and defense of the dissertation. Ford Foundation Postdoctoral Fellowships provide one year of support for individuals engaged in postdoctoral study after the attainment of the Ph.D. or Doctor of Science (Sc.D.) degree.

- Deadline: December 12, 2023

Fellowships in Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences

The following descriptions are copied from each fellowship's website.

Bard Graduate Center Fields of the Future Fellowship (Artists & Art Scholars)

Bard Graduate Center (BGC) is pleased to continue its annual Fields of the Future fellowship and mentorship program, which aims to help promote diversity and inclusion in the advanced study of the material world. These fellowships reflect our commitment to explore and expand the sources, techniques, voices, and questions of interdisciplinary humanities scholarship from different perspectives. BGC studies the past in its own terms in order to better understand where the future has come from. We invite applicants to submit projects that they think map the fields of the future. In an effort to promote necessary diversity and inclusion in the fields of decorative arts, design history, and material culture, we particularly wish to encourage applicants from historically underrepresented groups and/or projects of related thematic focus. Scholars should have university, museum, or independent backgrounds and possess a PhD or equivalent professional experience. Doctoral students of exceptional promise are also encouraged to apply.

- Deadline: March 1, 2024
- Citizenship: Unspecified
- Website: <https://www.bgc.bard.edu/bgc-research-fellowship>

Carter Manny Award in Architecture and Related Fields

Since the Carter Manny Award's establishment in 1996, over $815,000 has been awarded in recognition of outstanding doctoral students whose work represents some of the most innovative and advanced scholarship on architecture and its role in the arts, culture, and society. The Carter Manny Award supports dissertation research and writing by promising scholars whose projects focus on fields of inquiry supported by the Graham Foundation: architectural history, theory, and criticism; design; engineering; landscape architecture; urban planning; urban studies; visual arts; and other related fields. The award is intended to assist students enrolled in graduate programs in architecture, art history, the fine arts, humanities, and the social sciences working on architecture topics. The Graham Foundation offers two Carter Manny Awards: a research award for a student at the research stage of the doctoral dissertation and a writing award for a student at the writing stage of the doctoral dissertation. The research award is acknowledged with $15,000 and the writing award is acknowledged with $20,000.

- Deadline: November 15, 2023
- Citizenship: Open to students officially enrolled in schools in the United States and Canada, regardless of citizenship.
- Website: http://www.grahamfoundation.org/grant_programs?mode=award

Collaborative Research – National Endowment for the Humanities

The National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) Division of Research Programs is currently accepting applications for the Collaborative Research program. Collaborative Research grants support groups of two or more scholars seeking to increase humanistic knowledge through research, convenings, and collaborative publication. The program allows projects in a single field of study or those conducting interdisciplinary work. Projects that include partnerships with researchers from the natural and social sciences are encouraged, but projects must remain firmly rooted in the humanities and must employ humanistic methods.

- Deadline: November 29, 2023
- Citizenship: Must apply as part of a U.S. Institution. See eligibility for details.
- Website: <https://www.neh.gov/grants/research/collaborative-research-grants>

Council of American Overseas Research Centers/National Endowment for the Humanities Research Fellowship

The CAORC - National Endowment for the Humanities Research Fellowship is now accepting applications! This fellowship provides the opportunity for scholars to spend significant time in one country with an Overseas Research Center (ORC) as a research base. The fellowship supports advanced research in the humanities for US scholars who hold a PhD (and also foreign national scholars who have been resident in the US for at least three years). Approximately three awards will be granted, and fellowship stipends are $5,000 per month for four to six consecutive months. Fields of study include, but are not limited to, history, philosophy, religious studies, linguistics, languages, literature, literary criticism, and visual and performing arts. In addition, research that embraces a humanistic approach and methods will be considered.

Minority scholars and scholars from Minority-Serving Institutions are encouraged to apply.

- Deadline: January 24, 2024
- Citizenship: (1) U.S. Citizens and (2) Foreign nationals who have resided in the US for at least three years prior to the application deadline are eligible to apply.
- Website: <https://www.caorc.org/neh-fellowship-guidelines>

Council of American Overseas Research Centers Multi-Country Research Fellowship

The CAORC Multi-Country Research Fellowship Program supports advanced regional or trans-regional research in the humanities, social sciences, or allied natural sciences for U.S. doctoral candidates, who are all but dissertation, and scholars who have already earned their PhD.

Preference will be given to candidates examining comparative and/or cross-regional research. Applicants are eligible to apply as individuals or in teams. Scholars must carry out research in two or more countries outside the United States, at least one of which hosts a participating American overseas research center. Approximately 12 awards of $12,600 each will be given. Funding is provided by the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs.

Dynamic Language Infrastructure-Doctoral Dissertation Research Improvement Grants

This program supports doctoral research focusing on building dynamic language infrastructure (DLI). Developing language infrastructure includes the documentation and preservations of languages in ways that articulate or advance linguistic theory, as well as the use of digitization techniques and novel computational methods that support and advance the study of language. Special emphasis is given to human languages that are endangered, i.e., understudied and at risk of falling out of use. The program supports the development of the next generation of researchers that contribute to language data management and archiving, and to the analysis of these archives to advance language infrastructure. Funding in this solicitation is in the form of doctoral dissertation research improvement grants (DDRIs) for up to 24 months and this solicitation addresses the preparation and evaluation of proposals for DDRI proposals.

- Deadline: February 15, 2024 and September 16, 2024
- Citizenship: Unrestricted

Folger Institute Shakespeare Library Research Fellowships

The Folger's extraordinary collections are essential to understanding the humanities and their continued resonance and importance in our world. The Fellowships Program brings our rare and historic art, books, costumes, manuscripts, periodicals, prints, and visual resources immediately to life. We put scholars, artists, performers, and practitioners into direct and sustained engagement with the collections, with our many innovative digital resources, and with one another. For scholars, the Folger Institute offers long-term (an academic year) and short-term (up to three months) research fellowships. Artistic research fellowships support artists working in all media whose work would benefit from significant research with early modern primary sources.

History of Art: Institutional Fellowships

Advanced training in European art history requires direct exposure to the object of study, prolonged access to key information resources such as libraries and photographic archives, the development of professional relationships with colleagues abroad, and sustained immersion in European cultures. These related needs are often best satisfied by extended engagement with a European art research center. The Kress History of Art: Institutional Fellowships are intended to provide promising young art historians with the opportunity to experience just this kind of immersion. Each fellowship provides a two-year research appointment hosted by one of six specific European art history research centers.

Human-Environmental and Geographical Sciences Program Doctoral Dissertation Research Improvement Award

The objective of the Human-Environment and Geographical Sciences Program is to support basic scientific research about the nature, causes and/or consequences of the spatial distribution of human activity and/or environmental processes across a range of scales. Recognizing the breadth of the field's contributions to science, the HEGS Program welcomes proposals for empirically grounded, theoretically engaged, and methodologically sophisticated, generalizable research in all sub-fields of geographical and spatial sciences. Because the National Science Foundation's mandate is to support basic scientific research, the NSF Human-Environment and Geographical Sciences program does not fund research that takes as its primary goal humanistic understanding or applied research. HEGS supported projects are expected to yield results that will enhance, expand, and transform fundamental geographical theory and methods, and that will have positive broader impacts that benefit society.

IDEA WILD Conservation Research Equipment Grants

IDEA WILD seeks to minimize the loss of biodiversity by empowering people on the front lines of conservation by awarding small equipment grants to conservation professionals around the world. These equipment grants advance biological research, conservation education, community outreach, conservation management, field training, and professional development in areas where it is needed most. By empowering both aspiring and veteran conservation professionals, IDEA WILD has been instrumental in establishing new protected areas, reversing the decline of species through innovative management plans, restoring damaged and critical habitat, and improving how local communities support and sustain their immediate natural resources. Projects are prioritized based on conservation impact, recipient need, and project location. Additional consideration is given to projects in areas identified as critical biodiversity hotspots.

Mickey Leland Energy Fellowship (MLEF) Program

The U.S. Department of Energy's (DOE) Mickey Leland Energy Fellowship (MLEF) Program is a 10-week summer research internship for undergraduate and graduate students in STEM majors. Participants complete a cutting-edge research project at one of the Department's National Laboratories or DOE Headquarters in support of the Department's mission of limiting the environmental and climate impacts of fossil fuels and industrial processes while working to achieve net-zero emissions. The mission of the MLEF program is to strengthen a diverse pipeline of future STEM professionals and has provided mentored opportunities for over 1,000 students from across the nation for future careers in the STEM workforce. All eligible candidates are encouraged to apply. As a MLEF participant, you will train under the mentorship of scientists and engineers while completing a mission-focused research project. During the 10-week appointment, you will receive a bi-weekly stipend, and may be eligible for housing and travel assistance. You will also gain insight into how the Department of Energy is working toward an equitable and clean energy future.

The postdoctoral fellowship was established in 1986 by the NAEd with a grant from the Spencer Foundation. The fellowship program is intended to support early-career scholars working in critical areas of education research. To that end, the NAEd seeks to fund proposals that promise to make significant scholarly contributions to the field of education and to advance the careers of the recipients. This year, we will award 25 early career scholars. The fellowships of $70,000 are intended as salary replacement for one year and to cover other research expenses outlined in the proposal. Fellows must not receive other funding in support of their proposed research during the grant period. Fellows will also receive additional funds to attend required fellowship retreats and NAEd meetings.

NEH-Hagley Postdoctoral Fellowship on Business, Culture, and Society

The NEH-Hagley Fellowship on Business, Culture, and Society supports residencies at the Hagley Library in Wilmington, Delaware for junior and senior scholars whose projects make use of Hagley's substantial research collections. Fellowships may be four to twelve months in length and will provide a monthly stipend of $5,000 and complimentary lodging in housing on Hagley's property. Scholars receive office space, Internet access, Inter-Library Loan privileges, and the full benefits of visiting scholars, including special access to Hagley's research collections. They are expected to be in regular and continuous residence and to participate in the Center's scholarly programs. They must devote full time to their study and may not accept teaching assignments or undertake any other major activities during their residency.

NSF Division of Atmospheric and Geospace Sciences Postdoctoral Research Fellowships (AGS PRF)

The Division of Atmospheric and Geospace Sciences (AGS), awards Postdoctoral Research Fellowships (PRF) to highly qualified early career investigators to carry out an independent research program. The research plan of each Fellowship must address scientific questions within the scope of AGS disciplines. These disciplines include Atmospheric Chemistry (ATC), Climate and Large-Scale Dynamics (CLD), Paleoclimate (PC), and Physical and Dynamic Meteorology (PDM) in the Atmospheric Sciences, and Aeronomy (AER), Magnetospheric Physics (MAG), Solar Terrestrial (ST), and Space Weather Research (SWR) in the Geospace Sciences.

NSF Postdoctoral Research Fellowships in Biology (PRFB)

The Directorate for Biological Sciences (BIO) awards Postdoctoral Research Fellowships in Biology (PRFB) to recent recipients of the doctoral degree for research and training in selected areas supported by BIO and with special goals for human resource development in biology. For applications under this solicitation, these areas are (1) Broadening Participation of Groups Underrepresented in Biology, (2) Integrative Research Investigating the Rules of Life Governing Interactions Between Genomes, Environment and Phenotypes, and (3) Plant Genome Postdoctoral Research Fellowships. The fellowships encourage independence at an early stage of the research career to permit Fellows to pursue their research and training goals in the most appropriate research locations in collaboration with sponsoring scientists. It is expected that the sponsoring scientists will actively mentor the Fellows and will greatly benefit from collaborating with these talented early-career scientists and incorporating them into their research groups.

- Deadline: November 29, 2023
- Citizenship: U.S. citizen or legal permanent resident

Office of Polar Programs Postdoctoral Research Fellowships

The Office of Polar Programs (OPP) offers postdoctoral research fellowships (PRF) to provide opportunities for early career scientists, including social scientists, to accomplish one or more of the following goals: expand their work across traditional disciplinary lines, develop new partnerships connecting the polar regions and/or non-polar research communities, and provide entry to researchers who have traditionally had limited access to polar research resources, sites and facilities. During their tenure, Fellows will affiliate with a host research institution(s) and conduct research on topics supported by OPP.

- Deadline: February 5, 2024
- Citizenship: U.S. citizen or legal permanent resident
