

Subject Line: Graduate Funding Opportunities

Hello Graduate Students,

It is the time of year in Tucson when the weather is almost perfect. Everything is green and blooming, and it can be difficult to stay inside studying or researching. We encourage you to take a break for just a bit – maybe 30 minutes. Walk around the Mall or your neighborhood. A short break each day can re-energize you and relieve any stress you might be experiencing. But we know that many students are always looking ahead, whether it be to their exams, to a summer internship, or to a fellowship in the fall. We invite you to pursue the list of information sessions and other opportunities listed below when you have a chance – or take your computer or phone outside to read them if you must multi-task (but we hope you have a minute to appreciate the sunshine)!

Information Sessions

National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship (NSF GRFP) Information Sessions

The purpose of the NSF GRFP is to help ensure the vitality and diversity of the scientific and engineering workforce in the United States. The program is a wonderful source of funding for graduate students—providing awardees with $37,000 annually for three years, as well as additional benefits. These information sessions will help you get started on your application.

- Dates, times, and locations: Wednesday, April 17 from 12-1 pm; Wednesday, May 8 from 1 – 2 pm, and Wednesday, May 22 from 1 – 2 pm. All meetings will be held on Zoom.
- Info session website: <https://gradcenter.arizona.edu/funding/office-fellowships/workshop-and-information-sessions>
- Citizenship: Applicants must be U.S. citizens, nationals, or permanent residents. Please check other eligibility criteria as well.
- Grant deadline: Mid- to late October 2024, depending on field of study.

DAAD Information Session for Study in Germany

If you have any interest in research or study in Germany, the DAAD is an excellent source of funding. We will cover the various opportunities and timelines for applications. DAAD Fellowships provide support for study in Germany. Each year, the University of Arizona facilitates the selection of one priority candidate. Applicants from the UA are not required to submit for priority candidacy; applying for the priority candidacy is optional, and students can apply individually to the DAAD's various programs.

- Dates, times, and locations: Monday, April 22 from 1 – 2 pm. The session will be on Zoom.
- Info session website: <https://gradcenter.arizona.edu/funding/office-fellowships/workshop-and-information-sessions>
- Citizenship: See opportunity. Note that for long-term research grants, “foreign nationals who live in the US/Canada by the time of application deadline must have gained their last degree in the US/Canada or will be gaining it before the beginning of their funding period.”

International Foundation for Ethical (non-animal) Research Fellowship Program

The purpose of IFER's Fellowship Program is to provide financial incentives to graduate students in science that encourage them at the earliest stages of their career to integrate innovation and discovery with ethics and respect for animals. Fellowships are awarded to those candidates whose program of study shows the greatest potential to replace the use of animals in science. Graduate Fellowships are awarded to develop alternatives to the use of animals in research, testing and education are open to students enrolled in Master's and Ph.D. programs in the sciences, and human or veterinary medicine. Fellowships will also be considered for graduate students in other fields, such as education, psychology, humanities, journalism, and the law, for projects that show promise to increase public awareness or to promote changes in the legal system or public policy regarding the use of animals in research, testing, and education. Our fellowships provide up to $15,000 annually in stipendiary support and supplies per year. The fellowships are renewable annually for up to three years. Continued funding is dependent on student progress and availability of funds.

University Corporation for Atmospheric Research (UCAR) Earth System Science, Diversity & Inclusion, and Public Policy Fellowships

Each year UCAR selects three graduate students for fellowship tracks in Earth System Science, Diversity & Inclusion, and Public Policy. The Next Generation Fellowships offer graduate students the opportunity to learn alongside leaders in their fields. Just as important, these programs bring an infusion of fresh ideas and new perspectives to our organization. Each two-year award provides financial support for graduate school and two summer visits. The UCAR Next Generation Fellowships offer three distinct tracks: Earth System Science, Diversity & Inclusion, and Public Policy. Each fellow receives $40,000 no-strings-attached stipend over two years ($10,000 per semester), an all-expenses paid research trip to Boulder, CO, or Washington DC (for science policy fellows), and the support of a like-minded cohort.

- Deadline: May 31, 2024
- Citizenship: Unrestricted for all tracks except the Public Policy Track, which is open to U.S. citizens.

UA Data Science Ambassadors Program

We are seeking nominations for enthusiastic PhD students to support data science literacy at the University of Arizona. The Data Science Ambassadors (DSA) program capitalizes on domain knowledge and data science expertise in the UA graduate/professional student population. DSAs serve as a resource within their college to help researchers and educators with (1) data science related questions through consults, training, and/or referrals to the right resource and experts on-campus or online and (2) developing training or other data literacy programs that are specific to needs to you and your discipline/college. Selected applicants will develop a program of support and engagement that reflects and advances the data science needs of their college. All ambassadors will receive training and support in order to foster data science literacy in their respective colleges and compensation of a $1500 stipend for an academic year commitment. The Data Science Institute will provide one half of the $1,500 stipend, while the second half ($750) is expected from the nominating college. There is no limit to the number of students a college can nominate. Priority will be given to UArizona graduate and professional students who have completed at least one year of their program, demonstrated an interest in data science literacy, and have support from the nominating college.

Acton Institute Calihan Academic Grants (religion and liberty)

The Calihan Academic Grants provide financial assistance to scholars and graduate students whose academic work shows outstanding potential to advance understanding in the relationship between theology and the principles of the free and virtuous society. Such principles include recognition of human dignity, the importance of the rule of law, limited government, religious liberty, freedom in economic life, as well as the importance of the humanities and culture. Scholars currently studying theology, philosophy, history, law, politics, economics, or related fields whose work demonstrates this potential are eligible to apply. Grants can be utilized to facilitate research or for travel to present papers at academic conferences.

- Deadline: Grant applications will be reviewed and awarded, funding permitting, on a quarterly basis. The current application period (Quarter 1) is open.
- Citizenship: Unrestricted
- Website: <https://www.acton.org/calihan-academic-grants>

American Antiquarian Society (AAS) Diana Korzenik Virtual Research Fellowships

The American Antiquarian Society seeks applications for a fellowship program intended to address the equity and access issues faced by a range of scholars in using the research collections. These fellowships are offered as a bridge to assist those scholars who cannot work onsite at AAS in moving forward with their work. This fellowship is awarded to individuals engaged in scholarly research and writing - - including doctoral dissertations - - in any field of American history and culture through 1900. Each fellow will receive a stipend of $3,500. Length of Term: Access to digitized collections, both free and paywall-protected, will be for three months. A designated staff member will connect them with materials (via document camera) as time allows within the duration of the three-month fellowship.

Bemis Center for Contemporary Arts Artist-in-Residence Program

Since 1981, Bemis Center has provided artists from around the world dedicated time, space, and resources to conduct research and to create new work. The Bemis residency is a process-based experience—residents have the ability to research, experiment, and explore free from expectations. Bemis residents enjoy generous sized, private live/work studios and have 24-hour access to extensive installation and production spaces; the Okada Sculpture & Ceramics Facility, a 9,000 square foot industrial workshop used for large-scale sculpture fabrication; and a Sound Studio for rehearsing and recording. U.S.-based artists-in-residence receive a $1,000 USD monthly stipend and an additional $750 USD travel stipend. Due to the limitations of B2 visas (touring/visiting), international artists-in-residence are eligible to receive reimbursement of qualified expenses, such as airfare, ground transportation, and meals.

- Deadline: August 1, 2024 (for residency from September 10 - November 15, 2024)
- Citizenship: Unrestricted

Harpo Foundation Grants for Visual Artists

The Grants for Visual Artists award provides direct support to under-recognized artists 21 years or older. Applications are evaluated on the basis of the quality of the artist's work, the potential to expand aesthetic inquiry, and its relationship to the foundation's priority to provide support to visual artists who are under-recognized by the field. Funding decisions are made by the Board of Directors, following review of applications by independent professional advisors. Awards are made of up to $10,000. Grants are made to support the development of artists' work and a grantee may use their award to support any activity toward that purpose.

- Deadline: April 29, 2024
- Citizenship: U.S. citizen
- Website: <http://www.harpofoundation.org/apply/grants-for-visual-artists>

MacDowell Artist Colony Fellowship for Artists in Many Disciplines

MacDowell provides time, space, and an inspiring environment to artists of exceptional talent. A MacDowell Fellowship, or residency, consists of exclusive use of a studio, accommodations, and three prepared meals a day for up to six weeks. There are no residency fees. MacDowell accepts applications from artists working in the following disciplines: architecture, film/video arts, interdisciplinary arts, literature, music composition, theatre, and visual arts. MacDowell encourages applications from artists representing the widest possible range of perspectives and demographics and welcomes artists engaging in the broadest spectrum of artistic practice and investigating an unlimited array of inquiries and concerns. To that end, emerging as well as established artists are invited to apply. Doctoral candidates who have finished all coursework may apply.

- Deadline: September 10, 2024 (Spring/Summer 2025 deadline), Feb. 10, 2025 (Fall/Winter 2025-2026)
- Citizenship: Unrestricted

Society of Explosives Engineers Education Foundation Scholarships

The Society of Explosives Engineers Education Foundation (SEE Foundation) has opened the 2024-2025 scholastic year application process. The SEE Education Foundation is a nonprofit organization created in 1996 to serve the long-term education interests of the explosives industry through the development of education and training materials, championing the inclusion of explosives instruction in engineering curricula and awarding scholarships to eligible students. In 2024, the SEE will award up to $90,000 USD in scholarships to students pursuing degrees related to the explosives industry. To be eligible, students must be, or plan to be, pursuing a technical, undergraduate, graduate, or doctorate in a field related to the commercial explosives industries. Students will be assessed on academic and professional achievements, industry goals, a personal challenges narrative, and a brief statement of financial need. In past years, the minimum scholarship awarded was $500 USD, and top awards have exceeded $5,000 USD to well-qualified students.

- Deadline: May 6, 2024
- Citizenship: Unrestricted

U.S. Department of Energy Office of Science Graduate Student Research (SCGSR) Program at DOE Laboratories

The goal of the Office of Science Graduate Student Research (SCGSR) program is to prepare graduate students for science, technology, engineering, or mathematics (STEM) careers critically important to the DOE Office of Science mission, by providing Ph.D. thesis research opportunities at DOE laboratories. The SCGSR program provides supplemental awards to outstanding U.S. graduate students to pursue part of their graduate thesis research at a DOE laboratory/facility in areas that address scientific challenges central to the Office of Science mission.

- Deadline: May 1, 2024
- Citizenship: U.S. citizen or permanent resident

Women's International Network of Utility Professionals (WiNUP) Fellowships

The Women's International Network of Utility Professionals (WiNUP) believes in doing all it can to help those within the industry with their educational pursuits. WiNUP currently has three fellowships available annually to females pursuing advanced degrees (beyond a bachelor's degree), which will lead to careers in the utility industry or allied fields. Relevant fields must relate to a career in a utility related profession such as engineering, business administration, accounting, environmental sciences, communication, information technologies, and so on. Three fellowships are offered annually: the Julia Kiene Fellowship ($2,000 award), the Lyle Mamer Fellowship ($1,000 award), and the Louisan Mamer Fellowship ($500 award).

Postdoctoral Opportunities

Experimental Psychology Society (EPS) Postdoctoral Grants for Study Visits

This scheme aims to help finance postgraduate and postdoctoral research in experimental psychology. Awards will pay for travel to and accommodation at another institution outside an individual's academic base. The purpose of the visit is to develop the applicant's research skills and may involve learning at first-hand about experimental procedures employed in the host laboratory or designing and running studies that cannot already be carried out in the applicant's home department. Awards will not be granted for work which forms an integral part of an existing Ph.D. research project, nor for work which would normally be funded by other bodies (e.g., the applicant's award-granting body or home institution). To apply for an EPS Study Visit, you must be an EPS postgraduate member or a postdoctoral worker who received their PhD within the last five years. It is a further condition of the award that either the researcher's home institution or the institution to be visited, or both, must be in the UK. Preference will be given to applicants supervised by an EPS member, or whose visit involves a project with an EPS member. Grants will be for a maximum of £3,500 to any individual. In addition, the Society will, on receipt of appropriate invoices, reimburse the institution visited by the student for actual costs incurred as a consequence of the visit up to a maximum of £100.

- Deadline: June 1; September 1; December 1; March 1
- Citizenship: Unrestricted

Helen Hay Whitney Foundation (HHWF) Postdoctoral Research in Biomedical Sciences

The Helen Hay Whitney Foundation (HHWF) supports early postdoctoral research training in all basic biomedical sciences. To attain its ultimate goal of increasing the number of imaginative, well-trained, and dedicated medical scientists, the Foundation grants financial support of sufficient duration to help further the careers of young men and women engaged in biological or medical research. Candidates who hold or are in the final stages of obtaining a Ph.D., M.D., or equivalent degree and are seeking beginning postdoctoral training in basic biomedical research are eligible to apply for a fellowship. The Foundation accepts applications from candidates who have no more than one year of postdoctoral research experience at the time of the deadline for submitting the application, and who have received a PhD (or D.Phil. or equivalent) degree no more than two years before the deadline, or an M.D. degree no more than three years before the deadline. Since the number of available fellowships is limited, the Foundation does not make more than one award per year for training with a given supervisor. It also does not support more than two fellows per laboratory at one time.

- Deadline: June 15, 2024
- Citizenship: International students may apply but “foreign students will need to obtain appropriate visa documentation”

Huntington's Disease Society of America (HDSA) HD Human Biology Project

The Human Biology Project was launched in 2013 with the goal of fostering innovative research in collaboration with HD clinics to better understand the biology of Huntington’s disease as it occurs in humans. HDSA encourages researchers to consider one of HDSA’s 54 Centers of Excellence as a potential collaborator, but applicants may propose to work with any HD clinic around the world. One to two years of funding will be provided to support a scientist working collaboratively with an HD clinic anywhere in the world. Awards up to $90,000/year ($72,000 salary support and $30,000 research budget) will be granted. Preference will be given to young postdoctoral and clinical investigators (PhD and/or MDs) who are not yet independent.

- Deadline: May 3, 2024 (letter of intent due); July 5, 2024 (complete application due)
- Citizenship: Unspecified

Los Alamos National Laboratory (LANL) Postdoctoral Program

The Postdoctoral (Postdoc) Research program offers the opportunity for appointees to perform research in a robust scientific R&D environment, present and publish research, advance knowledge in basic and applied science, and strengthen national scientific and technical capabilities. To be considered for a postdoc appointment, a candidate must be nominated and sponsored by a member of the Laboratory's technical staff. Selection for postdoc appointments is competitive, determined by the candidate's academic qualifications and research excellence. Laboratory technical staff review postdoctoral CVs and contact candidates who are a strong match for their research. Candidates are eligible to apply for a LANL postdoctoral position within five years of receiving their PhD and within the Postdoc Program Office submission deadlines corresponding to the quarterly meeting being proposed, or the candidate will have completed all PhD requirements by hire-on date. Applicants without a sponsor should apply through the LANL Jobs web page.

- Deadline: For the August review cycle, sponsored candidate packages must be submitted by early July, with the outcome of review in late August.
- Citizenship: Unspecified
- Website: <https://www.lanl.gov/careers/career-options/postdoctoral-research/index.php>

Morton Cure Paralysis Fund (MCPF) Research Grants

The Morton Cure Paralysis Fund (MCPF) MCPF supports cutting-edge SCI therapies enabling researchers to gather proof-of-concept data needed to pursue multimillion-dollar grants from larger financiers such as the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the Christopher & Dana Reeve Foundation, and the National Science Foundation. We also place emphasis on collaborative efforts. Further, all scientific learning as a result of our funding must be broadly communicated to the rest of the scientific community. Qualified scientists at capable institutions will be considered for grant application.

- Deadline: April 30; October 31
- Citizenship: Unrestricted

NRC Research Associateship Programs

The National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine's Fellowships Office has conducted the NRC Research Associateship Programs in cooperation with sponsoring federal laboratories and other research organizations since 1954. NRC Research Associateships are awarded to exceptionally talented postdoctoral and senior scientists and engineers through a rigorous selection process. These selected individuals are granted tenure as guest researchers at participating laboratories, highlighting their outstanding contributions and potential in their respective fields. Applicants must have earned a Ph.D., Sc.D., M.D., D.V.M., or academically equivalent research doctorate before beginning tenure. The Fellowships Office makes NRC Research Associateship awards at the postdoctoral and senior researcher levels.

- Deadline: May 1, 2024; August 1, 2024; November 1, 2024, February 1, 2025
- Citizenship: varies depending on the sponsoring federal laboratory.

Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research Post-Ph.D. Research Grants

Post-Ph.D. Research Grants are awarded to individuals holding a Ph.D. or equivalent degree to support individual research projects. The program contributes to the Foundation's overall mission to support basic research in anthropology and to ensure that the discipline continues to be a source of vibrant and significant work that furthers our understanding of humanity's cultural and biological origins, development, and variation. The Foundation supports research that demonstrates a clear link to anthropological theory and debates and promises to make a solid contribution to advancing these ideas. There is no preference for any methodology, research location, or subfield. The Foundation particularly welcomes proposals that employ a comparative perspective, can generate innovative approaches or ideas, and/or integrate two or more subfields.

- Deadline: May 1; November 1
- Citizenship: Unrestricted
